WHAT IS AN ADVISOR DIRECTED TRUST?

An Advisor Directed Trust is a trust where the administrative duties and the investment management duties are separated. Capital First Trust Company serves as the trustee and administrator. The responsibility for investing the trust's assets lies with the investment advisor.

Financial advisors and investment managers dedicate their time and talents to developing trusting relationships with their clients, guiding them through life events and the important financial decisions that come with them. At Capital First, we recognize the depth of this relationship and seek to facilitate the advisor/client partnership with our Advisor Directed Trusts in which we serve as the independent corporate trustee.

NOTABLE BENEFITS OF AN ADVISOR DIRECTED TRUST

Capital First is Not Affiliated with Any Banking Institution

The trust client will be free from the influence of an affiliated financial service firm's product requirements or excessive liability concerns. Trust clients enjoy peace of mind knowing their trust and estate plan investment strategy will be implemented by their financial advisor who understands their circumstances completely and is able to make investment adjustments, as required, through all life stages, up to and including disability and death.

Capital First Does Not Participate in the Investment Duties of the Financial Advisor

As a South Dakota chartered trust company we rely on a South Dakota statute which separates investment and trust administration responsibilities of the trust. Known as a "protective" statute, the South Dakota law provides clear and definitive duties and liability between the Investment Advisor and Trustee.
